ISSTORMUR ehf. is a young family company that involved in the production of finished products and semi-finished products from fish and seafood. We are located in Southwestern Iceland in small town Sudurnesjabaer. That means that we use only natural raw materials freshly caught in Iceland. Iceland is clean and pure, natural and unpolluted. Fish grows in the natural environment, and is not grown on farms. The fish is completely wild, which means it has rich taste and does not have any harmful additives.

We export our products all over the world. Quality of our products – is our main priority. We aim to emphasize the special characteristics of each ingredient and preserve their quality. Another priority is – creation of exclusive and unique products. To realize this goal, we constantly developing our own technologies which we implement on modern equipment - very often developed by ourselves.

Our production corresponds to all international standards. ISSTORMUR ehf. has implemented a HACCP system. We really value the careful handling of raw materials and ingredients during production. We want to have all our products not only tasteful but also healthy. That's why we don't use ingredients that can negatively affect the health of consumers.

It's our goal to be more than your supplier. We hope to be your partner – one you can come to with questions, concerns and ideas. We apply an individual approach to each client. We can adapt the recipe to the needs and desires of the client, and develop an individual packaging design. We are constantly evolving and always open to something new.

Dear Partners! Please don't hesitate to contact us if you are interested in cooperation. We are always glad to communicate with you.
